BENNIE SPECTOR AND HIS MUSIC WILL ENTERTAIN ZEPHYRS CROWDS

One of the best known musical combinations in the middle west will entertain the Zephyrs' home basketball games, during intermission and also during the coming season. The Zephyrs management has hired Bennie Spector and his music makers and they'll be on hand for all of the home games here in the Coliseum. It's a well-known, hard fisted ensemble that has been playing throughout the middle west and featured with both Hollywood on ice and the Sonja Henie Hollywood Ice Revue and other large entertainments.

They'll be pleased to play your favorites. Just contact Bennie on the band stand.

DAVID C. TRAGER
PRESIDENT

Dave Trager, President of the Chicago Zephyrs of the National Basketball Association, is a sportsman who has gained great stature in the field of professional basketball in a very short time. The astute leader of the youngster team in the NBA has made great strides in bringing the "best basketball in the world" to Chicagoland. He now feels that the "cage sport" is on the verge of becoming a very successful operation both on the court and at the box office.

Since the 1961-62 season came to a close Mr. Trager has completely changed the complexion of NBA basketball in Chicago. He brought Frank Lane in as general manager; Jack McMahon as coach; and revamped the lineup, studding it with proven veterans and top flight college stars in an effort to bring a winning combination here.

When not guiding the Zephyrs Dave Trager is a busy business executive as the President of the Associated Life Insurance Co. But, with his associates in this professional venture his ambition is still to give Chicago sports fans a championship basketball team. One they can be proud to support.

A graduate of Kent College of Law, Dave Trager has made his home in Chicago for many years. He has always been a sports fan since he played basketball as a high school star in his native Minnesota. He is married and the Zephyrs' biggest rooter is Mrs. Liz Trager. Their daughter Lynn is a recent graduate of Ohio State University.

FRANK LANE
GENERAL MANAGER

RING THE BELL TV on Archive.org

Frank Lane, one of sports outstanding personalities and an expert on front office management and promotion for many years, is the man at the helm of the Chicago Zephyrs of the National basketball Association. Called the "Man on Motion" by his well wishers he is always on the go and has made things hum in professional basketball circles since he was appointed general manager of the Zephyrs by president Dave Trager late last spring.

Lane was instrumental in the signing of the Zephyrs number one and number three draft choices, All American Bill "The Hill" McGill of Utah and Don Nelson, the Big Ten great from Iowa who holds seven of the eight cage marks possible in Hawkeye competition.

The General Manager also engineered the deal that brought guard Al Ferrari and forward Shellie McMillon from St. Louis and he purchased Frank Radovich from the San Francisco Warriors.

There is little that Lane has not done in sport. He was a letter than average athlete when a youngster in Cincinnati, Ohio and played both professional basketball and football. He wrote sports, and through his reporting became an official and was recognized as one of the country's finest basketball and football "whistle tooters." He officiated in the Big Ten, the South West conference, in well known basketball tournaments and Bowl Games. He was the officials' representative on the basketball rules committee.

Frank Lane, a close student of baseball, became a member of the front office of the Cincinnati Reds under Larry MacPhail. In fact he was responsible for bringing Powell Crosley and Larry MacPhail together. He finally became farm director and overseer of the entire Cincinnati farm system.

During the second world war he served as a Lt. Commander and Commander in the U.S. Navy. Upon his separation from service he became general manager of the Kansas City club in the New York Yankees chain and left that post to become president of the American Association. During all this time Lane still retained his interest in football and basketball as an official.

The Chicago White Sox through the late Mrs. Grace Comiskey, hired Frank Lane as general manager in the late 40's. He had notable success there. When Lane took over, the club was in debt and in last place. He built it into a contender and one of the finest properties in the American League. After Mrs. Comiskey's death, Lane had a difference of opinion with Charles Comiskey and left to become General Manager of the St. Louis Cardinals. From there Lane moved in Cleveland and to Kansas City.

Frank Lane and Charles Finley did not get along. Lane was fired by the eccentric owner of the Athletics with a number of years on an extended contract still to run. Last winter Dave Trager felt that in Frank Lane he had a man who could put NBA basketball on the map in Chicago. The trick was getting Lane to leave baseball for basketball. Trager, a very persuasive guy, finally convinced Lane Chicago was the place for him and basketball the sport. Now Lane is deeply immersed in the running and promotion of the Zephyrs in Chicagoland, and elsewhere.

JACK McMAHON
COACH

Jack McMahon, 22 years old, a back court star in his professional playing days with the Rochester Royals and the St. Louis Hawks, an All American at St. John's University during his intercollegiate career, is the new coach of the Chicago Zephyrs of the National Basketball Association. This fiery Irishman from Brooklyn brings a great cage background and new look to the Zephyrs.

In discussing McMahon after he signed him, general manager Frank Lane voices this opinion: "This is a young and hungry man with his coaching reputation to make in the NBA. Jack did a tremendous job in the ABL with Kansas City and I expect him to be just as successful with the renamed Chicago team. He was one of the great little men in professional basketball, always a leader on the playing floor. He'll be an even better leader as the floor boss."

McMahon was the unanimous choice of the Chicago management after many prospective candidates for the coaching job had been considered. Last year, his first as a coach in professional basketball, he did a tremendous job with the Kansas City Steers in the ABL. His team led the league's overall playing schedule with a record of 58 wins and 29 defeats. Although defeated by Cleveland in the spring playoffs, the Steers ranked first in the team standings in both halves of the split season and won the first half playdowns. Over the season his club had a better record than any other team in the RBL.

Fellow coaches in both the NBA and ABL are him in their opinion that the new Zephyr headman is one of the finest leaders and teachers to break into the coaching ranks in a long time. He did a tremendous job in molding his players into a well coordinated aggregation.

As a player he was rated for his aggressiveness, and his fine play making ability. He was always in the fore as a playmaker rather than a scorer. His professional career spanned eight seasons with the Royals and the Hawks. When he retired from competition at the beginning of the 1959-60 season he became a scout and player adviser to Ben Kerner, the owner of the St. Louis club. Then early in 1960 he accepted in post as head coach of the Kansas City Club.

WALTER BELLAMY, 1961-62 ROOKIE OF THE YEAR . . . ONE OF BASKETBALL'S GREAT PLAYERS

Walter Bellamy, "The Big 2ell", will be the most closely watched player in the National Basketball Association this coming season. The 6' 11", 205 lb. 1961-62 "Rookie of the Year" and Western Division All Star center is the undoubted one of the Chicago Zephyrs. No other player in NBA history with the exception of Wilt Chamberlain of the San Francisco Warriors established the first year marks that Bellamy racked up with the former Packers.

No other freshman in professional basketball except "Wilt" came close to accomplishing the achievements of Bellamy. The "Rookie of the Year" provided the fans of Chicago and many other parts of the nation with many thrills and he'll contribute more this year. While Chicago expected great things from him in 1961-62, he more than surpassed their fondest hopes. He improved steadily, bore the brunt of the attack and the rebounding defense for the team and had set himself a goal for next season that he'll have a tough time controlling.

Bellamy's high game from a scoring standpoint was against the Los Angeles Lakers at the Amphitheatre on Sunday afternoon, January 21, when he netted 46 points. That afternoon the Packers lost an overtime thriller to the Los Angeles team 112 to 111. In rebounding his high was against the great Bill Russell and the world's champion Boston Celtics. On January 10 he grabbed 20 off the boards. In that game he also scored 35 points and outplayed Bill Russell who scored 14 and had 18 rebounds as Chicago won.

This is the young man, just 22 years old, who is the corner stone the Chicago Zephyrs have built around in bring the sports fans of the mid west a top caliber and eventually a championship basketball team.

THE NATIONAL BASKETBALL ASSOCIATION

The National Basketball Association has begun its seventeenth year of operation and it should be the most exciting and thrilling in the history of professional basketball from every viewpoint. All of the teams are reported to be stronger. The pace is expected to be tougher and new stars are expected to emerge from the batch of rookies signed by the nine clubs.

There has been a realignment of the Eastern and Western divisions because of the shift of the Warriors franchise from Philadelphia to San Francisco. Five clubs are in the Western division and four in the East. In the west it's Los Angeles, the champions of the section, San Francisco, St. Louis, Chicago and Detroit. The Eastern division is composed of the world's champion Boston Celtics, the New York Knickerbockers, the Cincinnati Royals and the Syracuse Nationals. On paper the Western group appears to be the toughest of the lot.

There are three new coaches in the league. Here in Chicago Jack Mahon. At San Francisco Bob Feerick has replaced Frank McGuire at the helm of the Warriors. Feerick, a former NBA star, had been coaching at Santa Clara University. The third is Harry Gallatin, the former New York star. Added to Harry the Horse, who has taken over at St. Louis.

Once again Chicago has the toughest row to hoe. Almost completely rebuilt, the Zephyrs have no place to go but up and they are determined to climb. The teams to beat are the divisional champions, Boston in the East and Los Angeles in the West. Both clubs are loaded with talent. They'll be tougher to beat. But all the other teams have, as stated, improved also.

Greer stars of basketball abound, you'll see them all. Elgin Baylor and Jerry West with the Lakers. Will the Stilt Chamberlain with the Warriors. Bob Pettit with St. Louis. Bailey Howell with St. Louis. The great guards Cousy and Greer with Syracuse, Ritchie Guerin with the New York crew. Oscar Robertson and Jack Twyman with Cincinnati and of course Bob Cousy, Bill Russell and Tom Heinsohn with Boston. And don't forget Wilt Chamberlain with our Zephyrs. All stars of great magnitude.

KEEP TRACK OF ZEPHYRS WHEN THEY'RE ON ROAD

During the next two weeks the Zephyrs get a break in road competition. The team will not be over burdened with outsiders games. In fact, between now and the end of the month only two away from home games are scheduled. Next Tuesday, Oct. 22, they play the St. Louis Hawks in the first game of a double header in New York. Then on Friday, Oct. 28, they play the Nationals at Syracuse.

Keep track of your favorite basketball team through the sports pages of the six local papers, the Chicago's American; Chicago Daily News; Chicago Sun-Times; Chicago Tribune, plus the Chicago Daily Defender and the Polish Daily Zgudo. You'll also find good Zephyrs coverage on Chicago's radio and TV stations. On radio, in alphabetical order: WAAF, WBEM, WBEE, WCFL, WGN, WHFC, WIND, WITD, WIOB, WLS, WMAQ, and WTAQ. On Television, WBBM, Channel 2; WBKB, Channel 7; WGN, Channel 9 and WMAQ, Channel 5.

The management of the Zephyrs thanks our newspapers, radio and television media for their fine support. This also includes our friends on the neighborhood press.
